An Easy Introduction to Financial Accounting Oct 23 2021 This book is a self-study guide written for someone who wishes to teach themselves basic financial accounting. It is based on a course by the same author that has been successfully completed by thousands of students worldwide. It explains concepts in simple language with illustrative examples, provides review questions and quizzes after each chapter and section, and contains two full-length practice exams at the end of the book. This book compares and contrasts US GAAP and IFRS for every topic covered in the book.

Fieldwork Investigations Mar 28 2022 In A Level syllabuses students must undertake personal investigative work based on first-hand and secondary data. This element of the exam accounts for between 16.7 and 20 per cent of the total mark in the case of all examining boards. Fieldwork itself has also changed in recent years, moving away from the traditional fieldwork day/week attended by the whole class, to personal investigation where students select an enquiry and are responsible for assessing methodologies, gathering data and writing up a report. This text tackles these areas, giving particular guidance to self-study. It explores skills and techniques, constructing questionnaires, using statistical analysis and gives advice on selecting a title. Sections relate to all the main themes of the syllabus.

International Relations Aug 28 2019 The book is written for active learners – those keen on cutting their own path through the complex and at times hardly comprehensible world of THEORY in International Relations. To aid this process as much as possible, this book employs the didactical and methodical concept of integrating teaching and self-study. The criteria for structured learning about IR theory will be derived from an extensive discussion of the questions and problems of philosophy of science (Part 1). Theory of IR refers to the scientific study of IR and covers all of the following subtopics: the role and status of theory in the academic discipline of IR; the understanding of IR as a science and what a "scientific" theory is; the different assumptions upon which theory building in IR is based; the different types of theoretical constructions and models of explanations found at the heart of particular theories; and the different approaches taken on how theory and the practice of international relations are linked to each other. The criteria for the structured learning process will be applied in Part 2 of the book during the presentation of five selected theories of International Relations. The concept is based on "learning through example" – that is, the five theories have been chosen because, when applying the criteria developed in Part 1 of the book, each single theory serves as an example for something deeply important to learn about THEORY of IR more generally.

Classic Wisdom for the Modern Human Sep 02 2022 The wisdom from the Oracle at Delphi, "know thyself," may be the antidote to the unique suffering evident in our artificially intelligent, algorithmic, change-filled modern society. In her Classic Wisdom for the Modern Human, a seasoned educator, parent, and Bikram yoga teacher invites each person to learn why and how to "travel one's inner landscape" for wellness. The author outlines five simple directions for each person's unique journey to answer the question, "who am I," and shares helpful tools for self-realization. Through journal writing, self-auditing, hot yoga practice and more, readers can learn about: owning and managing their attention; developing deeper self-awareness; embracing challenge; making mindful choices; and adopting a "landscapes for learning" mindset. Designed to help individuals recognize how unhealthy cultural conditioning has shaped their often-faulty perceptions of themselves, this Self-Study Guide encourages each person to engage with a very private, interior exploration of their own nature and uniqueness for a more truthful and meaningful human experience. Classic Wisdom for the Modern Human: A Self Study Guide for Wellness is an individual education plan for wholeness and balance needed both in our schools and beyond, now more than ever.
